Class History

'Twas only four short years ago,
In 1947, if you would know,
Our class embarked on its career
By entering its Freshmen year,
A band of eager, restless youth,
Who'd never cut a wisdom tooth
But recognized as gospel truth
The ancient pedagogic creed
That learning's road is rough, indeed.

'Twould take too long for me to tell
The strange adventures that befell
Our gallant class ere we attained
The lofty heights that now we've gained.

The faculty were most forbearing
Although they must have found us wearing
They never acted autocratic
But always wondrous diplomatic
Though treating us with hopeful blindness.

Though we started out with one seventy-four
We didn't know there was trouble in store.
For came the year of Forty-Eight
We found seventy-three were left behind.
Then came, of course, our Junior Year
Ninty-two were preparing for what they held dear
But through some ill fate in Fifty-One
Only seventy-two can say, "Its a job well done".

In any learned competition
Which tests the power of erudition,
We'd prove our brave power of the best
And treat with scorn a Binet test.
We'll not pass over this occasion
But tell the worst with evasion:
Some lazy members of our class
Were much alarmed lest they'd not pass.
Why, even yet they stop and wonder
If there has been some awful blunder.
It doesn't pay to be a shirker,
And not a fast and willing worker.

Our social life was very vital
And worth a place in this recital;
Our dances each a great event,
To which the school's elite all went.
Our Senior play showed gifts surprising
And talent quite beyond surmising;
Our banquet, food and fancy blended,
By far the best the town's attended.

When business troubles caused distress
Our president, with great finesse,
Just called and extra meeting. Then
He told us what to do and when,
And how each question to decide.
To him--smart boy--we point with pride.

We're cultured, really most polite,
And very, very erudite,
And, with our higher education,
Acquired broad-minded toleration.

Our store of knowledge is so great
We fear lest we confuse it,
But when we take a chance to use it.
We have although a trifle checkered,
A most extraordinary record.

Now comes the longed-for gala day;
The auditorium, in array,
Is crowded with spectators fair
Who all their festal garments wear,
And on the platform, side by side,
Behold our class, aglow with pride,
But sad at leaving this dear place,
Where they sojourned a little space,
And hoping life will be as kind
As these four years they've left behind.

Oh, class of 1951,
Look downward from your starry vision,
Assure me you do not infer
These lines were spoken in derision
I know that you are wise and good,
Abhorring falsehood, sloth, and pride
That wisdom, your daily food
And justice ever is your guide.

But, if you think my style amiss
Nor care for histories like this,
Or is the audience--much worse
Be weary of my straggling verse,
I tender to you promptly these
My most sincere apologies.

Barbara Deskins

Last Will

We, the Class of 1951 being about to pass out of this sphere of education, do make and publish this, our last will and testament.

We give and bequeath to our beloved Principal, Mr. C. N. Bennett, our sincere affection, our deepest reverence, our heartiest gratitude, and the whole unlimited wealth of our eternal memory.

We give and bequeath to the dear faculty, who have been our instructors in all the wisdom of the ages, a sweet and unbroken succession of restful nights and peaceful dreams.

To our successors, we bequeath our senior dignity, may they uphold it. We leave these personal wills to the following:

Maggie Johnson wills her way of getting along with people to Arnita Carter.
Harold Fletcher wills his ability to play quarterback to George Newman.
James Carter and Harold Ellis will their ability to act to Keith Lacy and Manny Stubbs.
Gloria Smith wills her habit of burning money to Elma Lee Jones.
Rosie Ross bequeaths her drape shape to Elma Lee Jones, and hopes she will use it.
Nellie Ellis wills her ability to type accurately to Catherine Simms.
Clarence Johnson wills his knowledge to Ronald Sheppard.
Agnes Washington wills the remaining scraps of Clayton Randall to any girl.
Eloise White wills her ability to do well in Business Courses to Ethel Newman.
Bessie Ross wills her ability to cry herself out of trouble to Blanche Coats.
Jewell Mundy wills her place in the Choral Group to Doretta Goins.
Ann Johnson wills Garfield Davis her heart after fifty years.
Stanley Washington leaves his ability to get Geometry to Jean Bennett.
Doris Jackson wills her musical voice to Gloria Chavis and hopes she will use it.
Vivian Sulton wills her ability to say "I don't know", to Dorothy Woodson.
Nettie Deskins leaves to Helen Lacey her driver's permit.
Doris Robinson and Mary Anderson will Laurtha Washington, Hattie Christian and Pearl Pendleton the ability to keep up the good work in Cosmetology class.
Aliene Borgus and Constance Robinson will their quietness to Gloria Dawson and Mary O. Anderson.
Lucille Roberts leaves her ability to get to class on time to Lillie Ford and Felice Robinson.
Willie Ann Harrison wills her personality to Martha Thomas.
Maxcine Thorne wills her shortness to Pearl Pendleton.
Valerie Bowyer wills to the Junior Class her dignity and reserve.
Chester Yates wills his ability to grow to James Webster.
Adell Robinson leaves her ability to type to Sylvia Robinson.
Ann Tankins wills her ability to read French to Claudette Williams.
Barbara Strothers leaves her baby face to Shirley Washington.
Ryland Brown wills his ability to sleep in class to Morris Mitchell.

and Testament

Wendell Bennett and Fred Bell will their hair styles to Manny Stubbs.
Vernell White wills her ability to get patrons out of the Cosmetology Shop on time to Jane Colbert.

Kinzel Edwards wills his ability to jive girls to Oliver Johnson.
Ellen Robinson leaves her ability to make the honor roll to Thelma Robinson.
Vivian Denny wills her shape to Frances Partillo.
Edwin Terrell wills his ability to drive the school bus to Joe Monroe.
Deloris Bailey leaves her ability to smile to Mildred Deskins.
Joyce Carter entrusts her French book to an under classman who will take good care of it.
Virginia Brooks leaves her quiet way of laughing to Edith Newman and hopes she will use it.
William Blackwell wills his ability to play short stop to Alvin Wimms.
Gloria Hansborough leaves her sophistication to Blanche Coates.
Edith Robinson wills to Barbara Lawson her physique.
Eloise Lomax wills her ability to be quiet and refined to Mildred Mann and Marion Moore.
Leonard Hunter wills Woodrow Gray his ability to make "A's" in history class.
Melvin Brown wills to William Coles and Trigg Cheek his ability to play sports.
Geneva Bowles wills Margaret Sutton her ability to get Home Economics and hopes she will find it helpful in the future.

Raymond Courtney wills his unfounded egotism to William Young.
Louis White wills his accuracy in Masonry to Claude Williams.
Ben Marie Bailey wills her typing book to Agnes Allen.
Evangeline Duncan wills her ability to do hair to Thelma Robinson.
Loretta Evans wills her poetic ability to her sister Loraine Durham.
Madeline Cochraham wills her pleasing disposition to Martha Thomas.
To Reid Poles, James Champ wills his ability to play table tennis.
Ernest Mann wills his gum chewing ability to Kent Thomas.
Jeannette Partillo wills her geometry book to Jacqueline Gaines.
Emma Pinkett and Barbara Deskins will their ability to get shorthand to Grace Harris and Dorothy Jones.

Gladys Bailey wills her hair styles to Loretta Harrod.
John Alexander wills his glasses to Jessie Deskins, so he won't make any mistakes in choosing a fine girl.

Matty Baltimore wills her technique of jiving the boys to Mary Ward.
Lucille Harris leaves her height to Marjorie Brown.
Pauline Hall wills good luck and success to the Junior Class.
We, the undersigned, hope that you will be benefitted by the above concessions.

Class Prophecy

When your fortune phrenologists read,
They felt all the bumps on your head
Which was tiresome and made you so weary
That the happiest fortune seemed dreary
By cards, by handwriting, or trances.
But I have a new method astounding
That is every old system confounding
Did you know that the shape of your noses
Your minds and your future discloses?
Just to prove that my powers are ample
I shall give you a wonderful sample.
I glance thus at your facts all glowing
And straightway your future I'm knowing.

Deloris Bailey, Geneva Bowles, Lucille Harris, Rosa Ross, Emma Pinkett and Nellie Ellis are the domestic, capable type. Ten years from now they will be happily married to business men and living in various large cities. Their homes will be the nicest and their meals the best in town. They will grow fat of their own cooking, but they will always be cheerful and model housekeepers for their six or more children each. Finally they will meet and form a chain of Eat and Run Restaurants.

Three young ladies: Barbara Deskins, Vivian Denny, Gladys Bailey, Constance Robinson, and Barbara Strothers will be on the staff of some well-known Business School.

Agnes Washington is now marching in her W. A. C. uniform in California.

Vernell White has received her Cosmetology Certificate from the Apex Beauty School.

As we walk down the street of Falls Church we see the names of Louis White and Howard Lansdown as this: "White and Lansdown's Construction Company."

Stanley Washington's voice has at last been discovered. He is now on his way to the Metropolitan Opera House.

Leonard Hunter is still looking for a restaurant where he can buy hot dogs for five cents.

Ryland Brown has just been fired from his position as coach at Union University for sleeping on the job. Harold Fletcher has been hired to take Brown's place.

Mary E. Anderson has become an efficient cosmetologist, and has opened her own business.

Fred Bell is head of the Staff at a famous hospital in Ohio and Wendell is his assistant.

Nettie Deskins is the head nurse and Jeannette Partillo is her assistant; both are under the supervision of Dr. Melvin Brown.

It is now 1990 and William Blackwell has at last received permission to visit the girl of his dreams in Manassas, Virginia. What a great day for him!

Gloria Hansborough has taken Hedy Lamarr's place in Hollywood.

The scene now takes us to the Nation's Capitol. Congress is now in session. I see Congressman Raymond Courtney, and his secretary, Joyce Carter.

Ben Marie Bailey is considering herself a good typist as the principal's secretary, but she is still using the "Hunt and Peck" method.

We now see Eugene Johnson, and James Summers furthering their education in Mechanics.

Loretta Evans is one of the greatest Negro artists represented in the Hall of Fame.

Ann Tankins is now teaching in the elementary schools of Prince William County.

Vivian Sulton is in her seamstress shop; her co-worker is Virginia Brooks.

Ernest Mann is working for the Westinghouse Electric Co. as a Radio Technician.

Gloria Smith, comedy dancer, is making personal appearances at the theatres in D. C.

Adell Robinson is a graduate social worker from Howard University.

Eloise White has just received her masters degree in Business Education at Wilberforce State College.

Valrie Bowyer is now a registered nurse at Freedman Hospital.

There is a new Beauty School being erected and its founder is Maggie Johnson. She is also the principal and her staff consists of the following: Ada Paige, Ann Johnson, Anna Smith, Pauline Hall, Willia Ann Harrison, Maxcine Thorne, and Edith Robinson.

John Alexander has established a large Barber Shop, his co-workers are James Champ, Clarence Johnson and Harry Robertson.

Class Song

(Tune of "Farewell to Thee")

Now our pleasant school days here are o'er;
We must sail across life's stormy sea,
But our thoughts will always linger here
And our prayer Alma Mater all for thee.

(Cho.)

Farewell to thee, farewell to thee,
Oh! Alma Mater now we hate to leave thee.
But we must go, to seek our goals
Across the Silvery Sea.

II

Many storms of life we've learned to brave;
As along thy Corridores trod,
With the counsel of our teachers, dear
and the guidance of a loving, patient, God

III

To our schoolmates we have left behind,
To our friends and all that we hold dear;
May your years be happy just as ours,
Filled with knowledge, friendships, love and cheer.

(Cho)

Class Poem

Hasten forth my fellow classmates
Let us pace the sands of time;
Let us seek the golden stairway,
With bright dreams and hopes sublime.

Let us carry high the torch,
Shining forth for Jenne Dean;
Carry high our dear school banner
Where to all the world its seen.

Let our work and deed be honor
As along lifes way we go;
Let us flush forever forward;
Through the strain, the stress and woe.

Let us realize that knowledge
Holds the key to our success;
And only those who have persistance
Can reach their goal and happiness.

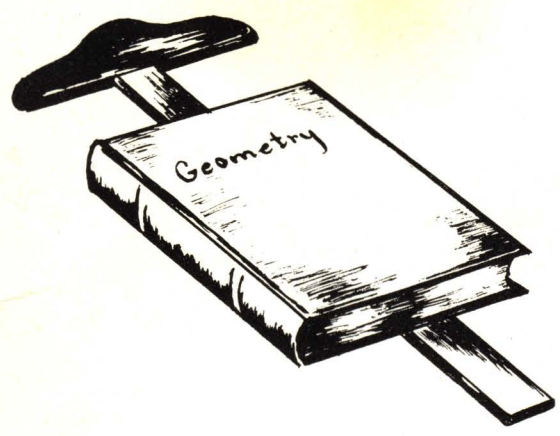

Before we start our upward journey
Let us pause to say farewell
To our dear old alma mater
Where so many mem'ries dwell.
